Pay sate

A proposal for cutting wages of service employees of the Whites-burg Hospital has been withdrawn after meetings between officials of Appalachian Regional Hospi-tals Inc., District 50 of the Unit-ed Mine Workers of America and an arbitrator from the U. S. Department of Labor.

Employees at Whitesburg and four other hospitals in Kentucky contract they signed last Feb. 1.

Workers at the five hospitals in Virginia and West Virginia just acquired by ARHI face a cut in wages, however, and some of them already are striking. The dispute is to be submitted to arbitration.

ARHI officials have said a wage cut is essential to assure continued operation of the hospitals, which otherwise face a deficit in the coming year.

Area bill ready for vote

The Rules Committee of the U. S. House of Representatives approved the Appalachian Recovery Act today and cleared it for action on the floor of the House.

The committee's action puts the bill in position for a vote by the House at any time.

The committee gave the mea-

Two not voting

Only four of Whitesburg's six city councilmen were present and voting when the group enacted the controversial "right-to-work" ordinance last week.

Present and voting for the ordinance were Councilmen Dr. Lee Moore, Russell Price, Troy Stallard and Don Crosthwaite.
Councilmen Bill Fields and Wesley Riley were absent.

sure new life after a series of off- in a provision banning developagain, on-again maneuvers that one day left the bill seemingly dead for the current session, and. the next brought it to life again.

The committee eliminated the proposal in the Act for a pasture improvement plan and beef cattle industry in the Appalachian area, thus removing objections of some cattle state representatives, who said there was no need for more cattle in an already-glutted market.

The committee has broadened the highway provisions in the original act by proposing to spend more money than had been asked by the President's Appalachian Regional Commission for a system of "developmental" highways in the Appalachian mountain region.

The committee also has written ment of public power in Appalachia.

Both the House and the Senate have held lengthy hearings on the Appalachian bill, which has drawn criticism as a "political boondoggle" from Republicans and from some conservative Demorrats. The Senate Public Works Committee, which has charge of the bill in the Senate, has not acted on it yet.

Lake contract given

Frankfort, --. The State has awarded a $22,330 contract to Gentry Construction Co., Whitesburg, for construction of a dam and lake at Kingdom Come State Park in Harlan County, the Department of Finance announced today.

The lake will provide a water supply for the new park being developed near Cumberland by the Department of Parks.Gentry offered the lowest of the bids on the project opened July 21 by the Finance Department. Planning and designing of the project was handled by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. Work will start within about 10 days and is scheduled to take 120 days.

Also planned is a road to extend the existing road into the park to a connection with the Little Shepherd Trail at the top of Pine Mountain. The 1,000-acre park's name honors the locale of "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," written by John Fox Jr., a Kentuckian.

Park facilities now include picnic tables and playground

Right to work at low pay

The Whitesburg City Council made what we regard as a serious mistake this past week when it adopted the notorious "right-towork" law -- a city ordinance clearly designed to halt union activ-

work" law--a city ordinance clearly designed to half union activity within the city limits.

The city acted, apparently, in the vague hope that by taking a firm anti-union stand the city can persuade industry to come to town. Specifically, the town seems to think it might land itself a garment factory, and that this would be a step toward progress. But do we really want garment factories or any other industry meaned to the abuse of employees, the payment of the lowest. geared to the abuse of employees, the payment of the lowest possible minimum wages? Can we build a town, an economy, on an industry paying only $1.25 an hour? We think not.

Low wages produce poor communities with poor schools, poor governments, a poor environment. Persons earning the mini-mum wage can't afford new cars, new clothes, new houses. They are doomed to a life of misery and poverty, and the socalled right-to-work law would do nothing but seal their doom, make certain their lives of poverty, by preventing them from using the only weapon an industrial worker has to fight for a better way -- a union.

There are several studies which show quite clearly that states and cities throughout the country which in recent years have a-dopted the right-to-work law are falling significantly behind national average wage scales. Studies show that such places as Atlanta, Georgia, which paid average wages close to national averages before Georgia adopted a right-to-work law, have seen average wages and the Atlanta economy decline since passage of the act to the point that Atlanta no longer is one of the pace setters in the national economy.

The situation in Eastern Kentucky of course is different. With only about half our total labor force employed in positions paying adequate wages, and with the other half existing directly or indirectly because of state and federal welfare programs, the need for new industry is obvious, and the pressures and temptative or the program of the pressures and temptative or the program of the pressures and temptative or the program of the pressures are the program of the pressure or the program of the pressure or the program of the pressure or the program of the pressure of tions to try anything, including a right-to-work ordinance, are

But as an area we are in great danger of making permanent our present economic situation by writing into law guarantees that this will continue to be a low-wage area.

It is the union miner with his take-home pay of $5,000 a year who is the Letcher County man who regularly buys new cars, new television sets, new clothes, new appliances. His $10-a-day counterpart in the non-union truck mines cannot afford these

To replace this union coal miner and his buying power with a $1.25-an-hour housewife working in a garment factory is not progress.

Eastern Kentucky wants and needs industry, of course. But it needs industry that is willing to build the area and not tear it down. We don't want and don't need the type of industry that thinks it can come in and take advantage of the people of the area simply because they are out of work and in great need. And there are a number of fly-by-night firms resembling vultures which have been sharpening their claws in anticipation at the prospect of coming into the area with federal or state-fi-nanced factories and machinery and low wage, anti-union protection from the towns, to make themselves wealthy from the sweat of the downtrodden of Eastern Kentucky who would be forced to accept slave wages because nothing else would be offered.

City council's action was hasty, taken without any public notice, without any opportunity for the working man and the working woman--the persons most affected--to express their wishes or desires. We hope it will reconsider.

Barryer

One of the more disgusting shows now being put on in the nation is that which is occurring in Washington, where Sen. Barry Goldwater and like-minded individuals are saying in substance that the United States government will fall victim to communism if Uncle Sam builds some highways in Eastern Kentucky.

Goldwater and the others who seek to block the Appalachian Recovery Act don't put it in those words, exactly. But the Republicans have pulled every trick they know how to pull--and they are numerous -- in their all-out effort to prevent the federal government from coming to the aid and comfort of the tens of thousands of Eastern Kentuckians who think they are entitled to such things as flood control and highways.

And while the Republicans go all-out in their opposition to spending a measly billion dollars in the 10-state Appalachian area, they are loud in their praise of Goldwater's plan for Uncle Sam to spend far more than a billion dollars on a TVA-like recovery program for the pauper state of Arizona.

Uncle Sam's dirty money breeds socialism, waste, a welfare no-good p it is spent in Eastern Kentucky. argues Goldwater. But Uncle Sam simply is making an investment in the great American system of free enterprise when he invests in Arizona.

For Eastern Kentucky, the issue is clear. If Barry Goldwater has his way, the Appalachian program will be killed, and no money will be spent to rebuild state and federal highways in this area. No money will be spent on flood control. There will be no Appalachian program and the area will be doomed to listening to platitudes from Barry instead of working at jobs from LBJ. And all the while, we in Eastern Kentucky will be watching our tax money go out to Arizona for the creation of another TVA. designed to provide cheap electricity and palatable drinking water for Arizona millionaires who dream of becoming President.

You don't know me. I don't know anyone in Letcher County. I have never been there in person. But I have a good friend who has. He is Gordon Ebersole. We have discussed the present challenge and ultimate oppor-tunity of the mountain region. Therefore, through a common friend, we do know each other.

Years ago, when a struggling school teacher, I was secretary to my small town (--very small town, it was!) Chamber of Commerce in the dust-blown scablands of the Grand Coulee. Dam and the Columbia Basin Project were then only in the dream stage. I sat enthralled for many hours, during the depths of the Depression of the early 30's, with those rural prophets, Rufus Woods, Frank McCann, Gale Matthews, Billy Clapp, Jim O'-Sullivan, and others, spinning out this dream, and calculating how the idea could be communicated to others. We collected a dollar here, a quarter there, to send an emissary to Washington to plead our cause. Usually organize d opposition interests, learning of our scheme, would seek to buy him off or make his trip fruitless at the Washington end. We were buffeted by waves of scronful criticism, and laughed at as impractical dreamers. leading national magazine lampooned the project, saying the air of the Grand Coulee was acrid with the dust of deadmen's bones -- and should be left that way.

Paying off AVERAGE FAMILY OF CAMPERS SPENDS $158 IN KENTUCK

Frankfort, --- How much will that family of campers you meet on the highway spend in Kentuck-

About $158.47, according to a survey by a Louisville research

At the request of the Kentucky Department of Public Informa tion, Market Research Associates, Louisville, conducted personal interviews with 78 parties of. campers chosen at random in two State parks on a recent week end. The survey revealed:

The average camping party consisted of 4.8 persons, ranging from a low of two to a high of 12

The campers planned an average stay of 6.4 days, ranging from a low of one day to a high of 21 days.

*The average camping party spent $158.47 with local vendors and businessmen, an average of $24.76 per party per day. Each individual camper spent an average of $33,20 in Kentucky dur ing his camping trip.
Eighteen states were represented in this total, with 27 parties. or 35 per cent, from Ohio.

Kentucky ranked second with 18 groups, or 23 per cent, and Indiana third with 10 groups, or 13 per cent. The remaining groups of campers were from wide-ly scattered areas and were from as far away as New York, New Jersey, Texas. and Colorado.

Their average expenditure of $24.76 per day per camping group varied from a high of $6.44 per day for groceries to 54 cents for personal services (doctors, dentists, barber shops, beauty shops, etc.). Surprising was the $4.91 per group daily average for fees and admissions to certain park facilities and to neighboring communities' museums, zoos, movies, and other attractions. Likewise surprising was the $4.01 daily average per group for gifts, nov-elities and souvenirs.

Cost of items purchased ranged from a $75 guitar and $45 neck-lace bought in London to 10¢ toys. Purchase of drug store and clothing store items were frequently listed.

The survey included campers chosen at random in mid-July at Levi Jackson State Park near London and at General Burnside Island State Park at Burnside. Comments included liberal praise for Kentucky State parks' clean, modern camping facilities and attractive camping sites and for the courtsey of park personnel.

Many campers reported that they made the parks their home base from which to "sightsee all over the nearby country."

In addition to statistics, the survey racked up an observation or two on the trend of the times:

A vast majority of those interviewed said they chose a camping vacation to "get out in the wide open" and to "get away from everything.

CITY OF WHITESBURG, KENTUCKY ORDINANCE GRANTING GAS FRANCHISE

The City of Whitesburg, Kentucky, Fifth Class City, having adopted an ordinance providing for the sale of a franchise or privilege to construct, lay, maintain, operate, repair and remove mains, pipes or connections and appurtenant equipment for the purpose of transporting, distributing, vending and selling productions and appure transporting and selling productions. natural and artificial gas for puband private uses, along, under, over and across streets, avenues, lanes, alleys and public grounds of the City of Whitesburg, Letcher County, Kentucky, for a period of twenty years, and said ordinance having been advertised in four consecutive issues of The Mountain Eagle, a weekly publication of Whitesburg, Letcher County, Kentucky, and WHEREAS, said ordinance commissioned the City Clerk of the City of Whitesburg to sell said franchise on the franchise on the June, 1964, between the hours of 12:00 O'clock Noon and 2:00 O' clock P. M. at the front door of the City Hall in said city, for cashin hand, or a certified check

WHEREAS, said Clerk filed her report with the Council of the City of Whitesburg, certifying that on said day, between the that on said day, between the hours of 12;00 o'clock Noon and 2:00 o'clock P. M. she offered said franchise for sale to the highest bona fide bidder, and that D. C. Stephens, of Prestonsburg, Kentucky, filed with the Clerk a copy of a Certificate of Convenience and Necessity obtained from the Public Service Commission of the State of Kentucky, and for said gas franchise paid the advertising cost and all other costs as a bid which was and is, deposited with said Clerk,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT OR-DAINED BY THE CITY OF WHITESBURG, LETCHER COUN-TY, KENTUCKY, AS FOLLOWS: That said sale of franchise to D. C. Stephens be, and it is, hereby confirmed by the Board of Council upon the following terms and conditions:

ONE:

That the said franchise be for period of twenty years from date, and that the said D. C. Stephens, his associates, cessors and assigns, shall have power under it to open the streets. avenues, alleys and lanes for the introduction of pipesand mains for the purpose of transporting, distributing, selling and vending natural and artificial gas, or a mixture of said gases, for public and private uses along, under, over and across said streets, avenues, lanes, alleys and public grounds of the City of Whitesburg, Kentucky.

TWO: That all excavations made by the said D. C. Stephens, associates or assigns, of franchise, for the introduction of pipes and mains for the purposes heretofore mentioned, shall be made with the least practical inconvenience to the sidewalks, or other public places by and on said excavations shall be repaired by the said D. C. Stephens, his associates and assigns, at his own cost and without unnecessary delays, and if he fails or neglects to make the neccessary repairs within a reasonable from the date of making such excavations, then the city may remove or repair the same at the cost of said party, and said D. C. Stephens, his associ-ates or assigns, shall be respon-sible for all injuries or damages to persons or property occasioned by want of care in opening or keeping open, clogging or re-pairing, or in any other manner unnecessarily, carelessly or negligently obstructing said streets, avenues, lanes or alleys for the purposes aforesaid. That all pipes and mains to be laid by said his associates or assigns, be laid as to not interfer with any previously installed underground fixtures, and the said. C. Stephens, his associates or assigns, shall install and operate said gas system and mains at their own risk and that the city shall not be liable for any accidents or mishaps which may re-sult from the operation and maintenance of said gas system.

As a further condition of this franchise and the exercise of the privilege and grants herein contained, or any of them, the said D. C. Stephens, his associates or assigns, shall furnish for public and private use to the city and its inhabitants such natural or artificial gas for the purpose heretofore mentioned at a reasonable price and in accord with prevailing prices heretofore deemedfair and reasonable by the PublicService Commission of the State of Kentucky.

The franchise is further granted with the conditions that the said D. C. Stephens, his successors or assigns, fail or neglect to exercise the rights and privileges here-in granted on or before June 1966, or fail in supplying said city and its inhabitants with said natural or artificial gas for the purposes aforesaid, or fail or refuse to comply with the provis-ions here in contained, then in such event, this grant and franchise and all rights, benefits and privileges shall be forfeited and wholly void. That the said D. C. Stephens. his associates or assigns, in selling and delivering within the corporate limits of the City of Whitesburg, Ken-tucky, shall not discriminate against consumers three miles above and three miles below said

That under the terms of this franchise, the City reserves the right for its City Engineer, or any other engineer employed by the City. to designate what distance from the curb line said pipes shall be placed. That the said D. C. Stephens, his associates or assigns, shall, at all times, maintain saide ouipment, mains and pipes, in a safe condition, and that any leaks or unsafe conditions that may exist in the said mains will be immediately repaired.

This franchise is granted with the further conditions that all exca-vations shall be protected by guard rails, and by night signal lights. That good and sufficient bond in the amount of Twenty-Five Thousand ($25,000) Dollars be given by said D. C. Stephens his associates or assigns, before work on the franchise commenconditioned to hold the City harmless by reason of any accident or litigation growing out of any negligence or want of care in excavating, operating or constructing, opening or keeping open, and maintaining the streets, avenues, alleys and lanes in a safe condition for the traveling public, and that the same will be restored as soon as the pipe lines are laid in as good condition as they were prior to the making of such excavations. That the said D. C. Stephens, his associates and assigns, will at all times, carry sufficient insurance to protect the inhabit-ants of the City and its property owners during the continuance of this franchise.

SEVEN:

This franchise, right, privilege and power herein described, together with all the terms and conditions hereof, shall extend and apply to the successors and assigns of the purchaser, and unlimited power and authority to assign and transfer the same at will and without further consent thereto by the City of Whites-burg, Kentucky or its inhabit-ants. That said D. C. Stephens, his associates or assigns, shall have the right to remove all mains, pipes, connections, appliances and other property from the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, ways and public grounds of the City of Whitesburg, Ken-tucky within a reasonable time after the expiration or other terminating of this contract or franchise, providing such excavations are covered and in as good condition as prior thereto.

The ordinance providing for this franchise having been adopted by the City Council as heretofore states, same having been paid, it is now ordered and ordained by the Council of the City of Whitesburg, Kentucky that franchise is now in full force and effect, applies to the successors and assigns of the purchaser, and unlimited and unrestricted power and authority to assign and transfer the same, at will and without further consent hereto by the City of Whitesburg, Kentucky or its inhabitants, is hereby ex-pressly given and granted to the purchaser, his or its successors and assigns.

All ordinances or parts of ord-inances in conflict with this ordinance are hereby repealed, and this ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its final passage and publication as required by law.

Done in regular session of the Council of the City of Whitesburg. Kentucky this _day of June, the goingest people go Royal Crown

Employees of Royal Crown Bottling Company at Whitesburg, Hazard, Jackson, Robinson Creek and Wise, Va., got together at the firm's bottling plant at Ermine earlier this month for their annual picnic.

Several hundred employees, families and friends attended the gathering. Each employee received an uncirculated Kennedy half dollar from the company's officials. Traditionally silver dollars have been given but the coin shortage this year made silver dollars impossible to find.

The food was plentiful and was spread on long tables inside the warehouse at Ermine. Some of the wives (right) helped to lay it out. Each family brought something to contribute to the potluck lunch.
